

Deja Vu

F#m                    A C#m E                    F#m

There's a house ----- near to here

F#m                    A C#m E                    F#m

Ruined walls --- ----- hundreds of years

E                    A                    E

It says, "You've been here before

A                    E

Stood outside my old door

D                    E                    F#m

In the pouring rain"

F#m                    A C#m E                    F#m

It's a house ----- with history

F#m                    A C#m E                    F#m

Living out ----- it's memories

E                    A                    E

Saying, "You've been here before

A                    E

Stood outside the main door

D                    E                    F#m                    F#m                    E

In the pouring rain"

Am                    F                    G

"I've got a story for you

Am                    F                    G

You will feel it as déjà vu

Am                    F                    G

Do you remember she waited for you

D                    E                    F#m

In the pouring rain?

INSTRUMENTAL

E                    A                    E                    x 3                    D                    E                    F#m (repeat)

F#m                    A C#m E                    F#m

I'm staring ----- at ivy walls

F#m                    A C#m E                    F#m

Hear the house ----- it gently calls

E                    A                    E

Singing, "You have been here before

A                    E

Stood outside the old oak door

D                    E                    F#m                    E

In the pouring rain

Am                    F                    G

"I've got a story for you

Am                    F                    G

You will feel it as déjà vu

Am                    F                    G

Do you remember she waited for you

D                    E                    F#m

In the pouring rain?

F#m                    A C#m E                    F#m

There's a house ----- an empty hall

F#m                    A C#m E                    F#m

Carved upon ----- the old stone wall

E                    A                    E

It says, "You'll come back for me

A                    E

Sometime in eternity

D                    E                    F#m

In the pouring rain"
