

When

I don't want to think about
You don't want to talk about it
We could really do without it
But when it happens
Everything will fall apart

Never thought they would allow it
Hadd a rule but they flouted it
Very pointed now about it
So when it happens
We can plan the restart

All we seem to do is doubt it
Everybody else will shout about it
Really shouldn't skirt around it
So when it happens
We can plan the restart

Can't deny we know about it
Need a plan to go around it
We might wish we never found it
But then when it happens
Everything will fall apart

Never thought they would allow it
Hadd a rule but they flouted it
Very pointed now about it
So when it happens
We can plan the restart

I don't want to think about
You don't want to talk about it
We could really do without it
But when it happens
Everything will fall apart
