

Buy Yourself a Go-Go Gadget

Dm (D/A bassline)

Another afternoon at home

No one is calling on the phone

You are sitting all alone

Are those footsteps that you hear

Watching daytime TV shows

Your delivery is near

The afternoon light starts to fade

You are almost moved to tears
When you receive the latest gear

Too much rain on your parade

Happiness is a charade

Just to have it in your hands

And loneliness the price you paid

When the package finally lands

Then you enact your plans

Dm

You become 'Unboxing Man'

Review the latest go-go gadget

So, you are waiting by the door

Your house is home to you and they

That's really what a door is for

The toys with which you like to play

Crouched and sitting on the floor

The collection on display

Cash rich but social life is poor

On YouTube you will have your say

Fill your days with catalogues

Comparing this one versus that

Reading through the techie blogs

Translates to adverts, then to cash

Can't wait to get another box

Is it better, big or flash?

Add it to your growing stock

You touch, you feel, reveal the stats.
