

Falling Past The Moon

I'm falling past the moon for you
Are you falling past the moon for me
Falling back to Earth is what I do
But I don't know how useful that will be

'Coz I might penetrate the rock
Or reflect back into space
I could colourize your world
Or vanish without trace

I'm falling past the moon for you
Are you falling past the moon for me
Falling back to Earth is what I do
But I don't know how useful that will be

I might sink to the ocean floor
Or get caught by the swaying trees
I could ride the rainbow slide
Turn to ice in a polar freeze

Well, I ain't no cosmonaut
Travelling at the speed of light
Streaking through the atmosphere
My fireball burning bright
I am not an astronaut
Falling through the astral plane
I am just your passing thought
A meteor turning into flames

I'm falling past the moon for you
Are you falling past the moon for me
Falling back to Earth is what I do
But I don't know how useful that will be

I'm falling past the moon for you
Are you falling past the moon for me
Falling back to Earth is what I do
But I don't know how useful that will be

I am not an astronaut
Falling through the astral plane
I am just your passing thought
A meteor turning into flames
